JULY 24, 2026

Procurement News

Reducing risk and severity of the FALSE CLAIMS ACT (FCA)

J.A. White & Associates, LLC helps government contractors reduce the risk of False Claims Act (FCA) violations by strengthening procurement controls, standardizing compliance processes, and improving documentation across the acquisition lifecycle.

While no solution can eliminate FCA risk, J.A. White's advisory services, training, and AI-powered platforms help organizations demonstrate due diligence, maintain compliance, and support accurate, defensible procurement decisions. Solutions include:

- Standardized FAR and DFARS compliant procurement workflows.
- Automated price and cost analysis to support fair and reasonable price with documented rationale.
- ClauseSync to identify and validate, required FAR, DFARS, and agency flowdown clauses.
- CPSR ProDocs IQ to maintain complete, audit ready procurement files with required approvals.
- Continuous compliance monitoring. FARegVision+ continuously monitors regulatory changes and alerts organizations to new FAR, DFARS, and agency requirements.

Continuous Compliance Monitoring

FARegVision+ monitors FAR, DFARS, and regulatory changes in real time, helping organizations identify new compliance requirements early, update internal processes, and reduce the risk of noncompliance, audit findings, and False Claims Act exposure. Contact one of our team experts for a deeper dive into FARegVision+.

Procurement Training and Policy Development

We deliver customized procurement training tailored to your organization's policies, contract requirements, and workforce. Our instructor-led courses combine FAR, DFARS, CPSR, subcontract management, cost and price analysis, flowdowns, ethics, and compliance best practices with real-world case studies to improve decision-making, strengthen internal controls, and reduce procurement risk.

Support During CPSRs and Internal Audits

J.A. White conducts proactive assessments to identify procurement documentation gaps, compliance weaknesses, and internal control deficiencies before they become audit findings. By correcting issues early and strengthening purchasing system compliance, organizations can reduce the risk of inaccurate certifications, unsupported costs, and potential False Claims Act (FCA) exposure.

Risk Identification Before Submission

Automated reviews identify missing documentation, unsupported analyses, incomplete justifications, and other compliance gaps before proposals, purchases, or invoices are finalized.

info@jawhite.com 803-750-9150 www.jawhite.com